

BREAKTIME

"A refreshing dose of pop/rock selections and impressive delivery of the same!" – Robert O'Donnell (Director: "Cranstock" Festival)

"A lot of FUN! I like these guys. They make me want to dance all night." – Heidi Curko (Owner: Shorty's)

"We'll have them back anytime." – Lee Frankel (Owner: The Crossroads in Garwood)

BreakTime is a New Jersey originals-and-covers band that champions an upbeat, optimistic pop rock style with generous vintage flair. The band's cover repertoire extends over 60 years and includes nods to artists from Chuck Berry to The Black Keys. Taking inspiration from their cover repertoire's stylistic breadth, BreakTime makes original material exploits into traditional rock 'n' roll, sixties pop, surf rock, hard rock, and folk.

Fans propelled the band's latest single release, the blistering hard rock track "Mastermind," to over 6,000 streams. True to their genre-hopping habits, BreakTime's Great Times debut EP lead single "Maybe No, Maybe Yes" features a twelve-string electric guitar submerging the listener into a jangly sixties time-warp. Great Times is available on all platforms 12/16/2022.

With their rich three-to-four-part harmonies, technical skill, showmanship, and willingness to unabashedly blend sonic palettes, BreakTime promises and delivers a memorable experience.
